LIBRARY

There will be no Teen Tuesday event on Tuesday, January 26, 2016. This month our intrepid Youth Services Librarian, Marian, has brought down da house with Game Day, Star Wars Trivia Party, and Craft Extravaganza. Girl needs a break. Stay tuned for upcoming teen events, in February, that will be amazzzzzzzzzzzzzing.

Woodrow Wilson said, "Friendship is the only cement that will hold the world together." Preschool Storytime at 10:00 a.m. and Kinder Storytime at 3:00 p.m. will be all about "Friendship" and the important role it plays in all of our lives. Come and make some new friends on Wednesday, January 27, 2016.

Music and history will be coming to the library on Thursday, January 28, 2016 in the form of folksinger and storyteller, Adam Miller. Miller says, "Folksongs travel through history and history travels through folksongs." He is a premiere autoharp and guitar player and a master of non-fiction storytelling. His songs and stories are for people of all ages and will have the audience singing along with this slice of Americana. The toe tappin will commence at 7:00 p.m.

CONVENTION CENTER

Upon returning to Seaside after being gone for 2 years, Barbershop Harmony had a successful event this past weekend! Both evenings were filled with strong vocal performances and delightful entertainment.

The convention center was host to the Oregon Association for Comprehensive Education (OACE), January 20-23, 2016. OACE works in close collaboration with the Oregon Department of Education and Education Northwest staff to provide up-to-date and important professional development for educators and paraprofessionals as well as resources for parents. This year's OACE Conference will focus on delivering training which will highlight strategies and techniques that educators and parents can use to more effectively support children's education—cradle to career.
