PUBLIC WORKS

The City Council recognized David Patch, Wastewater Treatment Plant Foreman, who is retiring from the City of Seaside January 31, 2016. David worked for the City of Seaside for more than twenty-eight years and he will definitely be missed.

November 2, 1987 to January 31, 2016.

LIBRARY

Beginning Tuesday, February 2, 2016 and running through Monday, February 29, 2016, the Seaside Library will be exhibiting paintings by local artist, Janet Bland. The title of the show is "Presence" and the art will hang in the Community Room and the foyer. Bland's work is a personal response to nature and to the experience of painting. She emphasizes color, gesture, and the tactile qualities of paint. "It is about the process of looking and response. Let the paint tell the story.

I am painting an idea of what things are; it is a dialogue—a conversation.” Her painting encourages looking at ourselves and at our surroundings.

Teen Tuesday is back from its short hiatus and they will be throwin down a Pizza and Trivia Party on Tuesday, February 2, 2016. The pepperoni will commence flying at 3:30 p.m.

Preschool Storytime at 10:00 a.m. and Kinder Storytime at 3:00 p.m. will be discussing the letter “S”, for Squirrel. Bushy tails all flying high—Some as big as bison—That tough ones got an attitude—He looks just like Mike Tyson. Kids can get nutty on Wednesday, February 3, 2016.

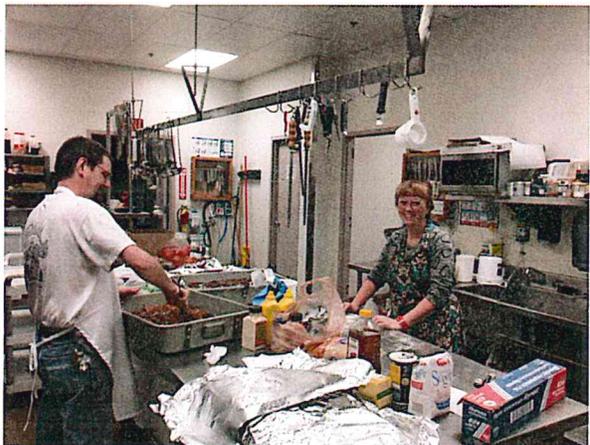

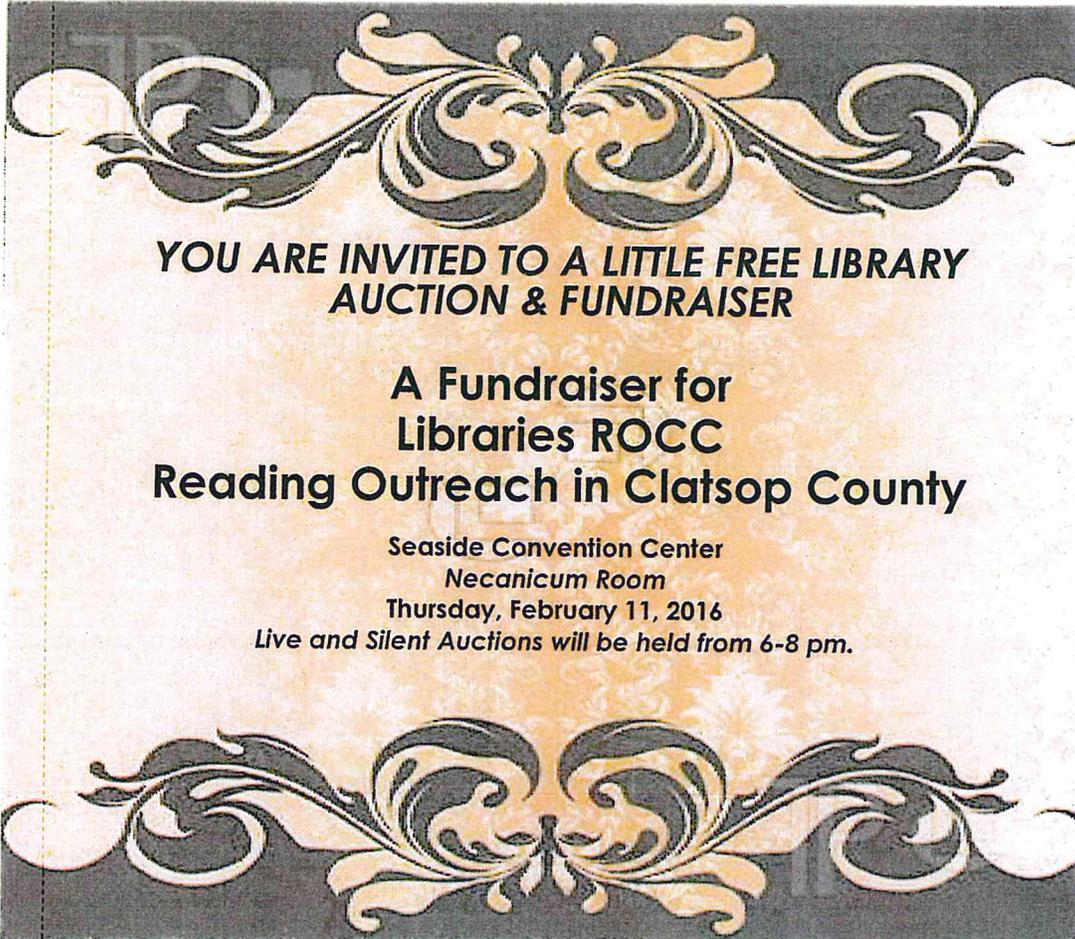

CONVENTION CENTER

Hello from the Convention Center!
This week the convention center hosted staff training for Sunset Empire Parks & Recreation District on Wednesday, January 27, 2016, and “Project Homeless Connect” sponsored by Clatsop Community Action on Thursday, January 28, 2016.

The convention center is scheduled to host the Tillamook Head Gathering on Saturday, January 30, 2016. The group will be holding a benefit concert entitled “Frogtown” at 7:00 pm. Tickets may be purchased for $10 in advance at the Seaside HS Business Office, Beach Books, or the Seaside Coffee House. Tickets will also be sold at the door for $15. Proceeds will benefit arts enrichment activities at Seaside High School.

The convention center was happy to have the city staff here for the employee luncheon on Wednesday, January 27, 2016. It was a great opportunity to sit down for a meal with co-workers who serve in other departments. Thank you Esther Moberg, Library Director, for preparing the meal which was delicious and thank you to all who helped with preparation, desserts, and clean-up. With food donations made by the staff, we were able to drop off a collection of non-perishable food items at the South County Community Food Bank. In addition, the leftover food from the meal was contributed to Helping Hands.
